My Enemy

Amorphis

He set out to take my life And the power of my soul His spells against my might My wrath he did ignite

Your brain replaced by mine Your mind changed into mine You lose sight of yourself Your world no longer yours

The lightning of my eyes crumbles you My fingers as snakes drag you to mire The trembling earth now melts under you Your legs turn to sludge from my ire

I feel your feelings now I know now what you knew I see how you have lied

Plunge you into your grave

Under the ground I force you To Underworld I curse you To arms of death deliver And damn inside a rock

Remorse is useless there And mercy never shown Bribery's futile there No promises hold

No one feels your pain
No one there will listen
No one takes your hand
No one helps you now

But I will show him mercy Let him return to life I will show him mercy I will let him go back
