

Golden

Amy Grant

You are young for a moment
For a moment, you are young
And your song and your story
Well it's only just begun
And the roads you will follow
Only time will tell
Some will feel like Heaven
Some like Hell

But you are loved, you are golden
And the circle won't be broken
When you sail into the shadow of the storm
Every son, every daughter
When you're out on troubled water
Just hold on, just hold on
You are loved, you are loved
You are loved, you are golden

Can you stand in the stillness
In the stillness can you stand
Cause you'll always dream of flying
But everybody lands
In this world full of voices
Screaming in your ear
Only in the quiet will you hear

You are loved, you are golden
And the circle won't be broken
When you sail into the shadow of the storm
Every son, every daughter
When you're out on troubled water
Just hold on, just hold on
You are loved, you are loved
You are loved, you are golden
You are golden
You are golden

You are loved, you are golden
And the circle won't be broken
When you sail into the shadow of the storm
We are sons, we are daughters
In this world of troubled waters
Just hold on, just hold on
Just hold on, just hold on
You are loved, you are loved
You are loved, you are golden
You are loved, you are loved
You are loved, you are golden
You are golden
You are golden