Touch

Amy Grant

There's a fire in the sky The stars are burning like this passion Tonight, slowly stirring

You and I A way we've never known Now we're here, alone

You're the one in my life and Nothing matters more to me On this night than

Learning how do I love you 'Til the morning light Baby, you and I

Hold me close, fill me, breathe Touch my heart Set it free and love will lead us

Lay me down, lift me up Feel the power Every time we touch

Don't we wait all our lives For such a moment Soul to soul, eye to eye

And all our colors run toward one 'Til there's no dividing light Between you and I

Hold me close, fill me, breathe Touch my heart Set it free and love will lead us

Lay me down, lift me up Feel the power Every time we touch

Hold onto water, hold to the tide Love is an ocean Love washes over

For you and I As we dream On the sea of desire

Hold me close, fill me, breathe Touch my heart Set it free and love will lead us

Lay me down, lift me up Feel the power Every time we touch

I have waited all my life

For this moment For this moment
