October Song

Amy Winehouse

Today my bird flew away gone to find her big blue jay Starlight before she took flight I sung a lullaby of bird land everynight I sang a lullaby every night sang for my Ava every night.

Ava was the morning, now she's gone she's reborn like Sarah Vaughan In the sanctuary she has found birds surround her sweet sound and Ava flies in paradise and Ava flies in paradise

With dread I woke in my bed to shooting pains up in my head Lovebird, my beautiful bird Spoken 'til one day she couldn't be heard She spoke until one day she coudlnt be heard she just stopped singing

Ava was the morning, now she's gone she's reborn like Sarah Vaughan In the sanctuary she has found birds surround her sweet sound and Ava flies in paradise [3x]
