Anything Goes

Ana Johnsson

Sometimes I wish I was born again
And saw the world through child's eyes
I want to be careless and free again
With nothing but beauty within
Where every day is a special day
And the future is something ahead
That forest where you and I used to play
The flowers are gone, trees are dead

Anything goes
Anything, if just for a moment
Anything goes
Something to bring dreams to life
Anything goes

If I could go back to those times again
I'd spend every moment with you
Those beautiful castles we made of sand
Were washed away out in the blue

Anything goes
Anything, if just for a moment
Anything goes
Something to bring dreams to life
Anything goes

Anything goes
Anything, if just for a moment
Anything goes
Something to turn back time
Something that I used to know
Something to bring dreams to life
Anything goes
