Here I Go Again

Ana Johnsson

I wanna taste the bittersweet
I wanna start a riot in these city streets
I don`t wanna live life on repeat
I wanna crash everything in the presidential suit

Here I go again And I feel so good Yeah I feel so fine Like a hurricane I`m gonna fall again I`m gonna cross the line I can`t wait another day I`m ready to be blown away Here I go again

Always looking for a thrill I love the chaos when I start a fire drill I`ve got so much time to kill I keep making promises I know I can`t fulfill

Some days, frustration is on Feelings out of place, and all hope is gone In so many ways, the temptation`s too strong It`s all good when it`s wrong

I wanna make somebody pay I wanna speak although I`ve got nothing to say Anything to make my day I`ll run you over If you`re standing in my way
