

C'mon, spread your wings
Cause you're gonna fly
Make up your thoughts, boy
Get ready for the dive
Into the pool of lightness
The ocean of sound
You had your destiny already
Cut out on this ground.

Stretch up in your beauty, boy
Wildness is a lust
The length for life is pulsing
Lift you up in sky
Pull the strings, make them create
That heavy restless sound
You had your destiny already
Cut out on this ground.

Refuse served principles of steel
Learn to recognize your will
People -they'll never believe
Being free from the illusions
Was the only way to live.

Only when it's dark enough
You can see the stars
You can only tell the height by
Hitting hard the ground
The more you've asked from life
Less answers you've found
You had your destiny already
Cut out on this ground.
