

Reset Rewind

Ana Popovic

All over, time to time, there's that moment again, simple truth that I have fills my chest with pain, keeps pushing me back and keeps pulling me down just like I don't belong in here like I never did

Lined up all those questions that need the answer now captain's lost, I know damn well the time is gonna come misty reality always down to be something I ran from as fast as I can but it's running back at me

It's that time again to call on my old friend need him to remind me who I was back then all those dreams I had that seemed so divine I simply wanna reset cause I know I can't rewind

Lord, let me reset cause I
I know I can't rewind
I wanna reset cause I
I know I can't rewind
