The Unwinding Cable Car

Anberlin

Your motive, unstable
You're like an unwinding cable car
Listening for voices
But it's the choices that make us who we are

Go your own way, even seasons have changed Just burn those new leaves over So self-absorbed, you've seemed to ignore the prayers That have already come about

This is the correlation of salvation and love Don't drop your arms Don't drop your arms, I'll guard your heart With quiet words, I'll lead you in

Backing away from the problem of pain You never had a home You've been misguided, you're hiding in shadows For so very long

Don't you believe that you've been deceived?
That you're no better
Than the hair in your eyes
It never disguised what you're really thinking of

This is the correlation of salvation and love Don't drop your arms Don't drop your arms, I'll guard your heart With quiet words, I'll lead you in

This is the correlation of salvation and love Don't drop your arms Don't drop your arms, I'll guard your heart With quiet words, I'll lead you in

You're so brilliant, don't soon forget You're so brilliant, grace marked your heart You're so brilliant, don't soon forget You're so brilliant, grace marked your heart

This is the correlation between salvation and love This is the correlation of salvation and love Don't drop your arms Don't drop your arms, I'll guard your heart With quiet words, I'll lead you in

This is the correlation of salvation and love Don't drop your arms Don't drop your arms, I'll guard your heart With quiet words, I'll lead you in
