

A Greater Purpose

Ancient Bards

Thick, dark voracious clouds wolfing down the tops of the highest towers bleed unforgiving gloom that drips down carving stones like knives of terror

I was always so narcissistic, superficial and arrogant, slaying dragons to satisfy nothing but my vanity.
All the glory and adoration made me feel like some kind of god, I was sure that my valiant deeds would go down in history.

Here on my shoulders i bear the weight of so many faultless lives, my sword's so much heavier now that I know they all depend on me.

Seeing things from this new perspective all my past seems so trivial, I was only a fatuous boy living out his own deceit.
I am filled by this new awareness, for my sins I will make amend, I will cherish the wisdom born from my strange epiphany.
Here on my shoulder I bear the weight of so many faultless lives,
my sword's so much heavier now
that I know they all depend on me.

He is face to face with Sendor,
with his cruelest enemy, while he's waging the battle with the demons inside of him!

Embrace my evolution,
cause I sense I was brought to this life for a greater purpose.
Smack down the fiend!

See the mortal dance
Left right left right up down up down One hops forward one steps back dodges blows bending to the side
One hops forward one steps back Cold blades cut the air seeking flesh hungry for bones

Though this day of grand disillusion might as well be my very last I am grateful for I received the great gift of clarity The result of past behavior wasn't meaningless after all if there's anything I've ever learned is to spear cold-bloodedly

Here on my shoulders i bear the weight
of so many faultless lives,
my sword's so much heavier now
that I know they all depend on me.

He is face to face with Sendor,
with his cruelest enemy,
with the demons inside of him!

Embrace my evolution,
cause I sense I was brought to this life
