It's wednesday night for those who can flee there's one place to go which only the only can see.

My sparkling wine
I'd never resist
I guess that's only me
just breathing the people I missed don't let this get over.

It's a perfect party to me cause he's DJ tonight everybody's dancing he's even doing the light doing the light.

Swimming in a black, tight music pool Paddy is my DJ everybody's going to skip the school Paddy is my DJ if I could pitch a tent right there a pillow and a blanket a girl to share a bassdrum, toms and snare I would not care.

And if you're not fine with music he do no reason to leave cause Paddy makes your wishes come true (Sometimes, maybe, probably not)

We enjoy the ride
we melt into this floor
It's easy to feel what he is living for (Four, three, two, one)
