White Doves

Somewhere in my world the sun turns blue some leaders going to break down their promises what a sad reflection we paralized with fear big man where are you now ? where are you now ?

white doves are bleeding white doves are bleeding dissimulation - keep watch and ward you might it for it now if god believes believes in god

white doves are bleeding white doves are bleeding

And One