

You Don't Love Me Anymore

And One

I didn't mean to treat you wrong
Or maybe I did?
I'm not so shure anymore
Somehow I knew that it wouldn't be long
Before you'd brake up and close the door
And be nomore
Still it echoes in my head
Things you've did ? and the things you've said

You don't love me anymore
I see it in your eyes
No believing in your lies
Just cold as ice

The morning sun peers trough the shades
As emotions slowly fades
Rays of light upon your skin
Qulit and passion unforgiven sin
And all the things that I've been
Sorry it had to end this way
But nothing matters anyway

You don't love me anymore
I see it in your eyes
No believing in your lies
Just cold as ice
