

Ave Maria

Andain

The pills, the chills, until it fills her still, the thrill
No will to stop this feeling
The lights, all night, the bass, no trace of pain
No blame, no name, forever smiling
The dawn all gone, the pain, the blame
The taste, the waste, the haste of love is born
Blank eyes are hard to ignore
Can't bear to stare anymore

The sun, no sun, can't bog the fog
The gray remains it fades into everything
Get up, get up, the clock won't stop
Must talk to work, usurp the desperation
Truck zooms, day looms, smell fumes, loud boys, such noise
The car, a jar breaks on the street
Blank eyes are so hard to meet
Can't bear it's too much to see 'cause

She's singing Ave Maria
What is this happening for?
And nothing seems to free her
Longing for more

With friends, no friends, moods tent to fall and stall the call
It all means less than nothing
It tears the glare of doubt, the shouts, just hear the fears
And tears that ring in the head
Time bides, hope dies, inside feel sore, long for the date
Must wait just one more week
Blank eyes fill so easily
Who's there to fill all the need but

She's singing Ave Maria
What is this happening for?
And nothing seems to free her
Longing for more

She's singing Ave Maria
What is this happening for?
And nothing seems to free her
Longing for more

She's singing Ave Maria
What is this happening for?
And nothing seems to free her
Longing for more

She's singing Ave Maria
What is this happening for?
And nothing seems to free her
Longing for more
