

Time

Andain

Well nothings changed and it's today,
Maybe it's better tomorrow.
And now is now and this is pain.
I'll find something for now to numb this ache.
And Time,
It won't let me down,
It will take you,
Down...
To a place where,
i can't live without you.

These swollen eyes have much to say,
Too much to listen this early and still,
This hopeful girl don't look so great.
It won't be much longer i'll have to take but...

Time,
It won't let me down.
It will take you,
Down...
To a place where,
i can't live without you.

So i'll run fast through life today,
And get my heart to beat louder.
A broken heart sounds the same way,
And running will keep me from hearing it.

Time,
It won't let me down.
It will take you,
Down...
To a place where,
I can't live without you.
