

Unreplaceable

Andre Matos

In the start, light had been made
There were rainbows in the air
In a place we all belong

It's so curious how it swaps
Like the pieces of a play
It depends on how we stand

Day after day
How we care for each word we say,
Each move we make...

You pretend you're in control
That you sit so high above
But I prevail without you
When at night you call my name
All your tears roll down in vain
You're nor unreplaceable

We must stand
Day after day
We must care for each word we say,
Each move we make...
