From The Morning

Andrea Corr

A day once dawned, and it was beautiful A day once dawned from the ground Then the night she fell And the air was beautiful The night she fell all around.

So look see the days The endless colored ways And go play the game that you learned From the morning.

And now we rise And we are everywhere And now we rise from the ground And see she flies And she is everywhere See she flies all around

So look see the sights The endless summer nights And so play the game that you learned From the morning

So look see the sights The endless summer nights And so play the game that you learned From the morning
