

Muddy Water

Andru Donalds

I ain't got to be lonely
The relationship was fine
Till I looked and saw tomorrow
Why should I be lonely
When I looked deep in your mind, I could see
Your lies turn my joy to sorrow
You did everything to blow my mind
But you dipped your fingers in muddy water

You're contolling and savvying
Why you played those silly games
All your lovers seem to follow
I'm so wounded in misery, i dont need to hear your words
Can you feel my pain through your alibies
Your every deep in muddy waters
Never shalllow in muddy waters
When your breathing, your in muddy waters
When your thinking, your in muddy water

You did everything to blow my mind
But you dipped your fingers in muddy water
