

Power Of The Loser

Andru Donalds

Security and feeling wanted in my mind
But treated like an extract searching for their kind
Seems like human beings can't understand
That every man was made differently on this land

See the man's determination that lies within eyes
Such strength and such pride: non belief he defies

The power of the loser
The power of the loser
The power of the loser
Never underestimate the power of the loser

Waking up to all that's evil around me
Erasing all the negatives that're throw my way
And for the pain that escalates year by year
I feel the growth as my evolutions clear

The more they insist I fail
The more I stand to gain;
Leave my path and trail of inspiration
Motivation for the brain

The power of the loser
They seem weak, they seem shy
The power of the loser
But their energy is still alive
The power of the loser
They don't fear to face the tide
Never underestimate the power of the loser.
