

Blame It On The Stars

Andy Grammer

Sometimes you need a reason
A bit of a love you can believe in
A little hug, a little big dreamin'
Apparently there's some correlation between
Hearts and outer space
And all I'm really trying to say is

That I'm just a Sagittarius
And we're kind of spontaneous
So let's head out to Vegas and find an Elvis to marry us
Don't try to argue with the moon

We can blame it on the stars
So c'mon let your heart just breathe
Stars, oh c'mon let your guard down
And we can blame it on the stars
(woo)

We like to think that we'll weigh in
On a previous reservation
It's all written in the constellations
Now I don't know, but either do you
Truth is, it's a good excuse
For both our hearts to let loose

And I know that you're a cancer
Which means you like holding hands
So show me how to do this dance
And spin me like a ceiling fan oh
Don't try to argue with the moon

We can blame it on the stars
So c'mon let your heart, just breathe
Stars, oh c'mon let your guard down
And we can blame it on the stars

I read your horoscope
And baby you should know
Just what your future holds
Let your hands move
Let my fingers find you
Wrap my arms around you
Here we go

The stars,
Oh c'mon let your heart just breathe
The stars, The stars, the stars

We can blame it on the stars
So c'mon let your heart, just breathe
Stars, oh c'mon let your guard down
And we can blame it on the stars

(woo)
We can blame it on the stars
(woo)
We can blame it on the stars
