

You Should Know Better

Andy Grammer

I'm on the phone; you turn your back on me
We're all alone, why is this happening
I never thought I would be questioning the one I, one I love

But here we are wrapped up in silence
Can we sound the alarm both so defiant and
Don't know where to start
I keep colliding with the one I, one I love

Don't make it so hard for me to stay

You should know better than that
Before you go on breaking my heart
And I fall even deeper in love
And my lungs screaming out can you hear me
You should know better than that
And here we are, here we are

If I could leave, I would be leaving
Cause I cannot believe what I am hearing
Tell me, how can it be
I'm second guessing on the one I, one I love

Don't make it so hard for me to stay

You should know better than that
Before you go on breaking my heart
And I fall even deeper in love
And my lungs screaming out can you hear me
You should know better than that
And here we are, here we are,
Here we are, here we are again

Some forgive just to forget
I have not forgotten yet, I still believe in you
But there is a crack in our cement
This time it's permanent, permanent

You should know, you should know better than that
Before you go on breaking my heart
And I fall even deeper in love
And my lungs screaming out can you hear me
You should know better than that
And here we are, here we are,
Here we are, here we are again

You should know better than that
And here we are, here we are,
Here we are, here we are again

You should know better than that
