

Caught Dreaming

Andy Mineo

I'm caught dreaming
Someone greater than me
And the colors seem
A burning tree speaking to me,
I'm caught dreaming.

Why waste my breath singing words of praise
That are filled with myself? Who's greater?
What love do I have that you didn't give
Cause all that I am is a product of grace.
And what should I trust, your love for me
Or my love for you? Who's greater?

I'm caught dreaming
Someone greater than me
And the colors seem
A burning tree speaking to me,
I'm caught dreaming,
Someone greater than me
Bringing liberty
The burning tree is saving me,
I'm caught dreaming.

Yeah, mouth full of praise, I love you so much
What an empty phrase, really I'm more amazed
How in spite of how I fail to do what you command to Serve other gods like Baal, you never bail,
That's illogical devotion, could it really be
You chose to die for the sinner when nothing was good in me.
You never left me, even when the darkest days began
Nor forget me, only thing you're forgetting is my sin.
I wanna make it to the end, let me remain faithful,
All because you're faithful in me, yeah, I'm grateful.
My mistakes can never stop me, choice you make to adopt me,
The holes in your hands are the proof that you'll never drop me.

I'm caught dreaming
Someone greater than me
And the colors seem
A burning tree speaking to me,
I'm caught dreaming,
Someone greater than me
Bringing liberty
The burning tree is saving me,
I'm caught dreaming.

I could sing how I love you, love you,
But your love for me is much greater.
And I could sing how I love you, love you,
But your love for me is much greater.

I'm caught dreaming
Someone greater than me
And the colors seem
A burning tree speaking to me,
I'm caught dreaming,
Someone greater than me

Bringing liberty
The burning tree is saving me,
I'm caught dreaming.
