

One More Time

Ane Brun

I'll try one more time
One more time
To know you
I'll try one more time
One more time

To understand
The values you lost, and we kept
What we learned while you slept
Makes a difference between you and me
It is scary
And makes me wonder one more time
One more time

It's taking you and me
And everyone
To somewhere
Where all consciousness is gone
You walk with your head down
See only the tip of your shoes
And the ground and dirt you walk on

Who taught you to despise
And tell lies you never knew weren't true
Tell each other lies
All lies

The stream you follow to make you strong
It's taking you and me
And everyone
To somewhere

Where all consciousness is gone
You walk with your head down
See only the tip of your shoes
And the ground and dirt you walk on

I'll try one more time
One more time
To know you
I'll try one more time
One more time
