

Love To Hate

A New Revolution

i found another way to let you down i found another way to complicate

just say it, just say it just say you love to hate it
i am the one you love to

no matter what i sing you'll hate me anyway you keep me hanging by your selfish dream but i'm too blind to see how ugly you could be

just say it's not enough

i am the one you love to hate every word you say, you say is mean each time you cross the line i keep saying one more time with every god damn breath i want to scream each time i run away your freakin' pulling me

just say it you love to hate it

the one you love to hate
