

Victims of Madness

Angel Dust

He comes out from nowhere
To seize power for himself
He knows how to seize the might
Enough power to start the fight
It's exactly the right time
To realize his plans
Plans for another world war
Now he sees his chance
Madness - he is totally insane
Madness - the only word to describe this man
Madness - only few know what he's gonna do
Madness - but its too late
No one can stop him on his way to the top
Not many foresee the disaster
But their hands - are bound
And their mouths - have been shut
By the legions of all around
We're all going to be
Victims of Madness
Victims of Madness again
Madness - again there'll be total war
Madness - death in the atomic roar
Millions - destroyed in a senseless war
Millions - crippled by a degrading life
He comes out upon us from the void
To seize the power to himself
He knows the way to occupy the might
Enough power to start a global fight
He's promising heaven but he's planning hell
His promising visions, put them all under spell
Marching for Revenge
You never asked me if I wanted to be born
And now you tell me how I ought to live
Right from the start you had your plan
Had it all planned from the beginning to the end
I must do what you demand from me
You give me (the) orders - and I have to obey
But it can't go on that fucking way
Time has come for me to break the chains
