Epiphany

Angel Taylor

Tell me who do you think you are? Believe or not I'm not torn or scarred, no My heart is intact You were never something I liked, no

Tell me why would you go that far? Your love had me locked up behind bars, oh But the chains are now gone I've never felt so free or so strong, yeah

And this epiphany just hit me And now I'm finally realizing

You're all I never needed I'm so perfect without you And oh, you look defeated Hopes and lies and see through, yeah

A true love is surrounding, clarity abounding You were never my epiphany

Tell me who do you think you are? This attitude you got won't get you far If you could only see how bad a star You possess, you possess

And this epiphany just hit me And now I'm finally realizing

You're all I never needed I'm so perfect without you And oh, you look defeated Hopes and lies and see through, yeah

A true love is surrounding, clarity abounding You were never my epiphany

Better, stronger Better, prouder without you Better, stronger Prouder without you, without you

You're all I never needed I'm so perfect without you, yeah And oh, you look defeated Hopes and lies and see through, yeah

A true love is surrounding, clarity is abounding You were never my epiphany, you were never my epiphany
