

Too Good For Words

Angel Taylor

I'm not gonna lie, it's been so hard
Trying to keep you in disguise
But your cool soothing voice is all I could hear
Trying to realize that you're nowhere near

And to put icing on the cake you had to wink at me
Giving me that wink that comes to you so naturally

But honestly
Is this just for now or is she yours until the end?
Could it be me or am I only dreaming?
Could you fall in love with a nobody like me?
Or is she just too good for words, for words?

And if I had three wishes one of them would be
That you would wish upon a star and wish for me
And I know I should trust my sovereign king
But it's those thinking hard and walking around looking studly

But honestly
Is this just for now or is she yours until the end?
Could it be me or am I only dreaming?
Could you fall in love with a nobody like me?
Or is she just too good?

And I know I don't have all the money in this world
But even if I did I'd give it up to be your girl

So tell me
Is this just for now or is she yours 'til the end?
Could it be me or am I only dreaming?
Could you fall in love with a nobody like me?
Or is she just too good for words?
She's probably, probably just too goods for words
