

Deeper than you do

Angela Ammons

It's happened before and I'm bruised to the core again
I try and even the score
But you run for the door and then
Something inside me wants to run to you and say
Could you see me deeper than you do?
Would you love me if you heard I loved you too?
Would you feel the fire when you looked inside my heart?
Could you see me deeper than you do?

Here we go again
We like to pretend without
But under our smiles, we're waiting to cross that line
Something inside me wants to run to you and say
Could you see me deeper than you do?
Would you love me if you heard I loved you too?
Would you feel the fire when you looked inside my heart?
Could you see me deeper than you do?

Could you see me deeper than you do?
Would you love me if you heard I loved you too?
Would you feel the fire when you looked inside my heart?
Could you see me?
Could you see me deeper than you do?
Would you love me if you heard I loved you too?
Would you feel the fire if you looked inside me heart?
Could you see me deeper than you do?
