Burning Hope

Angeli Di Pietra

And as the world keeps turning day and night The power of hope's burning deep inside Burning in our hearts Burning in our souls Giving us the strength to carry on

Fighting for our future Fighting for our dreams Battling for freedom With all means Waiting for our future Dreaming all our dreams Battling for freedom With all means

And everything will be allright If the world keeps turning Everything will be allright If our hope keeps burning And everything will be allright If the sun keeps shining Everything will be allright If we keep on fighting

And as the world keeps turning day and night The power of hope's dying deep inside Dying in our hearts Dying in our souls Taking all our strength, we can't carry on

Fighting for our future Fighting for our dreams Battling for freedom With all means Waiting for our future Dreaming all our dreams Battling for freedom With all means

And nothing is gonna be allright 'Cause our hope is dying Nothing is gonna be allright We can't keep on fighting
