I see the stars in your eyes Portraying my face in the future Nice is the weather outside But I'll stay at home Oh! Waiting for the rain... Memories of when we were young Wishing so bad to be older Now you may look to the past The only way forward ...Lighting up another cigarette Playing cool while cracking up inside Saying hi to people's like saying goodbye Laughing, but wishing to cry Gentle change of tides Upcoming days Oh, the spirits of a new horizon fall Into old dreams Standing here howling at the storm Shouting how life could be perfect Well, then the walls have to fall To start it again Gentle change of tides Upcoming days Oh, the spirits of a new horizon fall Into old dreams Far away from sights Oh, hidden in the maze Oh, oh, spirits of a new horizon fall Into old dreams
