

Reaching Horizons

Angra

Rainy clouds covered up the sunny sky
Now I know I'll sleep alone tonight
Tears and prayers will be taken by the rain
Fear and loneliness in my dreams
And I know I'll never be the same
Living this tragedy insane
All I wanna be is to be free with you, with me
I don't blame the fate but it's still hard to face the truth
It was all just like paradise
Just like we wanted it to be
Far beyond the reason rest our lives
Eternity denies the guilty of reality senselessness
Fly high reaching skies
Two eagles flying to be free
Moments of madness will be left behind
The same horizon but in different lands
