Look at my face Scars won't deny Alone again I start to cry Staring at me Too blind to see Open arms For all I give For all I take Inside of your heart So near so far I'm just a boy... like you Oh! Father I pray For your charity Wisdom for life Was all I needed Was all I wanted To share with you You know my heart Was not disquise Waiting for you So stay with me I'm now a man! You know! Come! Take a chance And give it all No harmful winds To whisper for Life is short, you know We can regret Healing wounds always help us to redress And with you I learned to live Come! Take a chance And give it all No harmful winds To whisper for Our time is short, you know Must we still regret? Healing wounds always make time to redress And I love you more each day