

The Addiction

Angtoria

I shall scream in silence
I'll cry but not she'd a tear
I shall speak with no sound
I shall hurt with no pain
Your hearts as black as the night
On my death bed I'll crawl
You hold the breathe to my life
Something die's within

My soul whispers your name, Are you there?
Ocean of my fears, I shall drown for you
Inabitions die, With your blinding lie
I yearn for you now, Taste me, Bleed me dry
Time cries slow like mourning, without you in my sight
Something burns within me, Deep within my eyes
