

It Was Blue

Angus Stone

It was blue against the wall
It was over, over when we got there
It's a gravestone up ahead
It's an old man in your head

No I don't need ya now
Nad I never need ya before
Ni I don't need ya now
Hell I don't need ya anymore

In my head
In my head

They were rolling' in the car ahead
It was too late, too late to look back
It's a gravestone
It's an unmade bed
It's a cold flame
In youre head In your head

No I don't need ya now
And I never need ya before
No I don't need ya now
Hell I don't need ya anymore

In my head
In my head
In my head
In my head

They're standing round the fire
Listening to the brain
The world now is dying
We stole too much to gain

We stole too much to gain
We stole too much to gain
No I don't need ya now
And I never need ya before
No I don't need ya now
Hell I don't need ya anymore

In my head
In my head
In my head
