Second intermission
anticipation
you know the third act small talk drops out of the play you're standing in the lobby tightening your tourniquet waiting for it and then the bell sounds and the lights flash
and there's all these questions milling around and there's no time to ask

No bliss for little miss leading cuz she's learning about bleeding but what is love if not exquisite our only saving grace or is it? and somewhere inside your iris blooms the reflection of my surprise as you stroll past every last do not enter and touch me at my epicenter and the bell sounds and the lights flash and there's all these questions milling around and there's no time to ask

I'm always trying to get there I never really get there to that quiet place where I accept myself instead I'm deep inside some high school locker room no clothing popping the zits of my self loathing under fluorescent lights and the bell sounds
and you're too ashamed to ask
