God Created Woman

Anita Cochran

It was a man's world for a day and a half Adam had a garden for a bachelor pad But something was missing in his paradise Then along came eve, the apple of his eye Without hesitation he gave into temptation ;®cause God created woman to raise a little cain Gave her a softer side, put fire into her eyes to drive a man i nsane He knew what he was doing, ; Bcause history has proven Since God created woman man's never been the same Old christopher columbus would have never set sail Without a little push from isabel Alexander graham invented the phone So his wife could ring a bell when she wanted his home Some feminine persistence can make a world of difference ;®cause God created woman to raise a little cain Gave her a softer side, put fire into her eyes to drive a man i nsane He knew what he was doing, ; Bcause history has proven Since God created woman man's never been the same It's all a part of the plan, for the good of every man ;®cause God created woman to raise a little cain Gave her a softer side, put fire into her eyes to drive a man i nsane He knew what he was doing, ; Bcause history has proven Since God created woman man's never been the same
