

Cats

Anita Lipnicka

And the girl
with the red dress
She was more than just a cat at least more than any cat I'd seen And she kept on coming back she kept on coming back.
She wanted
to be seen
by that boy
from around here
Wanted to be the queen
In anybody's dream
In anybody's dream
Cats are like people
like people
like people
They would make you believe in anything
Cats are like people
like people
like people
When they want something want something
anything...
And the boy
at the window
he said: "I can see you, there, below
I see nothing new You just need someone to love you someone to love you".
So, he came down to the street...: "Hello"
just for a kiss...
It made her think
of paradise
and other things like that we all need things like that
