

If I Could Feel That Old Feeling Again

Anita Ward

If I could feel that old feeling again,
The touch of your hand in mine
And if I could see that sweet smile,
It would bring back for awhile that old feeling again

(Feeling, Feeling, That old feeling again)

It's been a long time since you departed,
But I can't forget you
Because I'm still, still broken hearted

And if I could feel that old feeling again,
The touch of your hand in mine
And if I could see that sweet smile,
It would bring back for awhile that old feeling again

(Feeling, Feeling, That old feeling again)

I was a fool
to let you slip away,
But I'm so much wiser now,
But my wisdom came too late

I'd give all of my tomorrows
For just one yesterday with you
Just to bring back those feelings,
It'd be a dream come true

If I could feel that old feeling again,
The touch of your hand in mine
Wo oh, if I could see that sweet smile,
It would bring back for awhile that old feeling again

(Feeling again)
that old feeling again
(Feeling again)
that old feeling again
(Feeling again)
that old feeling, old feeling,
(Feeling again)
old feeling again
