Eye For An Eye

Ann Beretta

An outside struggle i should've seen it coming but instead i tu rn and run it away when she knew what she was doing each night she started proving who needs trouble like this anyway? well i know what i like and i know its not right so i put up my fists and i put up a fight outside screaming, we're all looking for the truth blinded by our hatred, blinded by our youth a dim light shines in hope that you might find a second chance to live the rest of your days but you ain't seen night just know you left me runnin' from the east coast into the bay. • • an eye for an eye a tooth for a tooth brothers fight each other all looking for the truth running around thinking they're bullet-proof
