

Come To Me

Ann Lee

Your name is an echo inside my mind that cuts through the silence all of the night calling a rythm all through the night your name - your name.

I have no need to imagine you your face is always in my eyes oh a smile sweetly comes shining through your name - I hear your name.

And so come to me just say yes - baby I'll do my best
and so come to me
just say yes - baby I'll do my best.

Oh come to me
oh and stay - all through the night and day
oh come to me
will you stay all through the night and day.

You're face is an image I'm searching for I need just to see you to feel so sure play me your music behind closed doors your face - your face.

I have no need to control myself I trust all the the love that I feel inside everytime that your name I tell your name - I hear your name.

You and me will be close in time but heaven knows when you will be mine if it's to be make it in a while I can't hold it much longer.

'cos all the love that I feel inside does it show that I'm hypnotised I'm in the dark and I need your light to shine on stronger
