

Impatient

Anna Abreu

You say you listen but you never do.
You say we're fine but I'm in this too.
You fall asleep and I'm still awake,
I wish you would understand.

You're like a rock that I would like to break or like a cocktail that I have to shake.
You make me sad when I'm happy,
I wish you could understand.

Still I go weak when you just look at me. (so don't look at me)
You're such a creep but still you make me feel. (so don't make me feel)
Let me love I'm impatient
or cut me loose and let me be free,
cause you're the one who's holding the key.

I know you love me but it feels untrue,
sometimes a wall between me and you.
Am I a dreamer or am I a fool
I've got a thing about you.

Still I go weak when you just look at me. (so don't look at me)
You're such a creep but still you make me feel. (so don't make me feel)
Let me love I'm impatient
or cut me loose and let me be free,
cause you're the one who's holding the key.

Still I go weak when you just look at me. (so don't look at me)
You're such a creep but still you make me feel. (so don't make me feel)
Let me love I'm impatient
or cut me loose and let me be free,
cause you're the one who's holding the key.

I'm torn apart so stop dragging my heart around.
Oh, how I wish that you would understand.

Still I go weak when you just look at me. (so don't look at me)
You're such a creep but still you make me feel. (so don't make me feel)
Let me love I'm impatient
or cut me loose and let me be free,
cause you're the one who's holding the key.

Still I go weak when you just look at me. (so don't look at me)
You're such a creep but still you make me feel. (so don't make me feel)
Let me love I'm impatient
or cut me loose and let me be free,
cause you're the one who's holding the key.

Cause you're the one who's holding the key.
