

Hold a Little Place

Anna K.

We told each other time would tell
If I belonged to you and no one else
Two together, side by side
Torn away to leave it all behind

I'll hold a little place for you to come home again
The dreams that blow along the road
Whisper tiny secrets from the past
Scattered songs that bring us home
To break the spell find a love that lasts

Please hold a little place for me
To come home again
All along you and I were meant to be...
Here again
