Hold Me (just A Little Longer Tonight)

Anne Murray

I've been lyin' here thinkin' over old times
Old friends of yours, old friends of mine
At least half of those parts have been broken in two
Sometimes love just ain't strong enough
Some give in and some give up and it started me thinkin'
What would I do without you. Oh, hold me in your sweet lovin' a rms
Take me to where it's safe and warm
Hold me, just a little longer tonight.

People take love for a foolish thing
Some tear it down, some give it wings
And I'd like to think
That we could fly away, yeah.

You always have, say you always will Stand by me baby, till the world stands still
Say you will, say it tonight
Say you will.

Woh, hold me in your sweet lovin' arms
Take me to where it's safe and warm
Hold me, just a little longer tonight.

Mmm, hold me in your sweet lovin' arms
Take me to where it's safe and warm
Hold me, just a little longer tonight.

Hold me (say that you will)
Just a little longer tonight.

Hold me (do it tonight)
Just a little longer tonight...
