

I'll Be Home

Anne Murray

I'll be home

I'll be home

When your life's in trouble and you are all alone
When you feeling down and need some sympathy
And there's no one else around to keep you company
I'll be here to comfort you and see you through
I'll be home, I'll be home, I'll be home

I'll be home

(Oh yes, you will)

I'll be home

(Even in the morning, yeah)

Where ever you may wonder or where ever you may roam
You come back and I'll be waiting here for you
'Cause there's no one else, who'll ever love you the way I do
Remember baby, you can always count on me
I'll be home, I'll be home, I'll be home
