

Loneliness

Annie Lennox

Loneliness

Is a place that I know well
It's the distance between us
And the space inside ourselves
And emptiness....
Is the chattering in your head
It's the call of the living
And the race from life to death
Woa and I know
Yes and I know
What you feel...

And I've got a longin'
That's hard to find
Won't give me no peace of mind
Something that I've lived with all along
Days and weeks and months and years
Filling in the time my dear
Tryin' to find the place where I belong

Hopelessness

Is the darkness in your heart
It's the sound of one hand clapping
While it's pulling you apart
Woa and I know
Yes and I know
What you feel

And

I've got a longin'
That's hard to find
Won't give me no peace of mind
Something that I've lived with all along
Days and weeks and months and years
Filling in the time my dear
Tryin' to find the place where I belong

And

I got a hunger that's Hard to fill
Driving me on overkill
Tellin' me that everything's gone wrong
Got me a need
That I can't break
More than I can hardly take
Somehow I still keep on going strong

When I call your name

I'm gonna scream out loud

I'll say...

"here I am standing in the crowd"

You'll say "come to me"

With your open mind

You never know

What you still might find"

But you keep me here

Like a cancelled flight

An empty train
Running through the night
An orphan child
A broken shoe
And I'm still down here
Looki' out for you
Are you there for me?
'Cause I'm here for you
