

Left Behind

Another Animal

It's cold tonight
And I can feel it closing in
Alone I ride and I can
Taste her on wind
The dimming light as
Darkness kills another day
I close my eyes and pray

Kill yourself just to
Feel like you're alive
It's hard to laugh when the
Truth is all that's left behind

The waking dawn washes
All the sins of night
Alone again thinking about
When things were right
And pushing on get so numb
Just to survive
I close my eyes and pray

I've seen the world
As she folds her hand
You know it brings me down
Makes it hard to say
With all the things you had to lose
It's killing you
The scale that weighs again today
