

Between These Walls

Anouk

Between these walls I used to live
Without receiving
So much that I had to give
Between these walls

There were a lot of things that I've could have done differently
But it ain't about the way I live
It's the heart that counts

Comfort, feed, embrace, love and protect me
Ain't that what I'm here for, you said you'd be here for me
No matter what

How come it feels so cold every time you step into this room
Why does it feel so cold when you're mine?

In the spring of '75 that's when God made a mistake
He took me here
To the wrong side
I guess you did the best you could
But never good enough
Caus it's the heart that counts
Comfort, feed, embrace, love and protect me
Ain't that what I'm here for?!

You said you would die for me, remember?

How come it feels so cold every time you step into this room
Why does it feel so cold
I'm freezing

Stuck here with this broken heart
All I can do is hoping for a full recovery
Why did you have me in the first place?
Well..
Comfort, feed, embrace, love and protect me, yeah
Comfort, feed, embrace, baby just respect me

How come it feels.. so cold every time

Comfort, feed, embrace, love and respect me

Just respect me.. Just respect me..

How come it feels so cold every time..

Baby love me
Baby love me
You love me, yeah
Oh love me, yeah
Just love me, yeah
