Graduated Fool

Graduated fool, that is what I am For every time I failed you You're so beautiful, I just turned and walked away

I jingle with words, tangle my tongue Stammering stutters So I wrote you this song, to finally tell you What you've known all along, I love you Believe in me, believe me

It was true devotion, now these mixed emotions Oh, I did it again I want you to forgive me, when the pain has faded We'll be laughing again Believe in me

Graduated fool, I'm better than I am For that is what you made me Please, hold back your tears I didn't deserve you anyway Believe in me, I still care for you, believe me Just believe in me, believe me

When I kiss your face again, all these mixed emotions Of pleasure and pain I want you to forgive me, when the pain has faded We'll be laughing again

Believe in me, you're so beautiful, believe me Just believe in me, believe me
