Anouk

They say that sometimes You've got to pick up your arms and fight For what you believe is right

Some say
That's just not the way
You will only make things worse

So I close my eyes and turn my head away And I hope it'll be alright Fall into a restless sleep While so many innocent die That's why I sing

Hail to all of us Hail to all of us down here

Maybe someday soon
When we've thought things over
We'll know what to do
But probably
There's a much bigger chance, you see
That it will all be gone

So I close my eyes and turn my head away And I just hope it'll be alright Fall into restless sleep While so many others die That's why I sing

Hail to all of us Hail to all of us down here

New York City, London, Jericho Jerusalem, Sydney, anywhere you wanna go Capetown, to the moon and back again

Hail to all of us
Hail to all of us down here
