

Hold On

Anouk

It's funny how situations change
My imagination's playing games
I keep letting you back in my head

The glitter is gone spread your wings and fly
I'll try to keep it civilized
Baby all I wanted was you

Hold on hold on
There's more to come
Hold on lost one
'Cause there's some more

No one's ever hurt me more than you
I broken down in two pieces
And everything I sing is already been sung

Look at all these scars written on my skin
Some people find them hard to see
Now who will I be when
I'm not with you anymore

Hold on hold on
There's more to come
Hold on lost one
'Cause there's some more

You found yourself another place to hide
I can't believe that it's all set and done
I pray to God for you your choice was right
The time has come for me to let us go

Hold on hold on
There's more to come
Hold on lost one
'Cause there's some more
